EquatePlus Cookie Notice

1   Scope

This Notice applies to the equateplus.com website which is operated by Computershare Investor Services Plc, Equatex AG, or their affiliated group companies where these entities provide you access to a share plan service, (hereinafter, "Computershare", "we" or "us").

2   What are cookies?

This website uses cookies like many other websites. Cookies are small pieces of data that may be stored on your computer or other device by your web browser when you visit a website.

Cookies are used to provide website owners like Computershare with information about their visitors' preferences and actions, such as which pages are visited. Cookies cannot examine your computer, read data from it or in any other way share personal information stored on your computer with others.

3   Why do we use cookies?

Cookies enable us to improve your user experience and provide you with relevant content across our website. We may use cookies to:

- Support essential site functionality;
- distinguish between visitors;
- improve the use and the functionality of our website; and
- tailor our website and products to your needs and preferences.

We do not collect any personal data through the use of cookies on our website or attempt to associate any cookie information with an identifiable indicator to create visitor profiles.

4   Categories of cookies?

- Essential cookies: Also termed strictly necessary cookies, these cookies are fundamental to website functionality and cannot be switched off without blocking features on the site.

- Functional cookies: these are used to enhance your experience (e.g. remember settings) and are set with an expiry period of one year.

- Tracking and performance cookies: these cookies are not used on this site.

- Targeting and advertising cookies: these cookies are not used on this site

5   What types of cookies do we use?

This website uses essential cookies, which are absolutely necessary for the operation of the website, and functional cookies, that save user settings in order to avoid re-entering preferences. An overview of the cookies used on the website is detailed in the following table:

Name	First Party or Third Party?	Duration	Purpose	Types of data collected	Domain
Navajo	First party (Computershare)	Expires at session end	Session cookie for the login infrastructure of the EquatePlus web application.	Randomly generated id, to distinguish visitors and sessions	*.equateplus.com

WWWSession	First party (Computershare)	Expires at session end	Session cookie to send the user to the correct target and balance the server load on the EquatePlus web-application.	Randomly generated id, used to distinguish visitors and sessions	*.equateplus.com
retainedHeaders	First party (Computershare)	Expires at session end	Session cookie to allow the end user client to communicate with the server.	Technical details	*.equateplus.com
selectedLanguage	First party (Computershare)	Persistent cookie, expires after 1 year	Language preference of the user for the EquatePlus web-application.	Language flag	*.equateplus.com

6   How can you control cookies?

Most internet browsers are set to automatically accept cookies. Depending on your browser, you can set your browser to warn you before accepting cookies, or you can set it to refuse them. Please refer to the 'help' button (or similar) on your browser to learn more about how you can do this.

Disabling cookies will impact your experience on our websites.

If you use different devices to access our websites, you will need to ensure that each browser of each device is set to your cookie preference.

Last updated: August 2021